Plans to Suspend Work for Mrs. McKinley's Funeral.

THE PRESIDENT GOES TO-DAY

Mr. Roosevelt and Party Expected to Arrive in Ohio Town To-morrow Afternoon—Secretaries Root and Wilson to Accompany Him—Pallbearers Selected Include Notables.

Canton, Ohio, May 27.—President Roosevelt and his party are expected to arrive in Canton from Washington shortly after 12 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, via the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, for the funeral of Mrs. McKinley, at the old homestead at 2 p. m. Wednesday. The President will be accompanied, according to announcement, by Secretary Root and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, representing President McKinley's old Cabinet, and by Mr. Loeb, secretary to President Roosevelt.

The President goes from Canton to Indianapolis. Vice President Fairbanks has wired that he and his wife will be here. They are expected Tuesday night. They will be the guests of Justice and Mrs. W. R. Day.

The remains of Mrs. McKinley will lie in state at the McKinley residence from 3 until 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. This announcement was made after a conference of Justice W. R. Day, Secretary Cortelyou, Mayor Turnbull, William L. Day, and Mrs. Barber Monday afternoon.

Pallbearers Selected. The pallbearers announced for the funeral include, of those who served as honorary pallbearers for the late President, Judge Henry W. Hart, John C. Dueber, Joseph Biechle, Robert A. Cassidy, and George F. Freese. To these are added Austin Lynch, R. S. Shields, and Judge C. C. Bow. Justice Day, who was one of the pallbearers at the President's funeral, will accompany the family to the cemetery. The late W. A. Lynch was another of the honorary pallbearers, and Judge T. T. McCarthy, who also served, is in ill health.

The funeral ceremonies, in deference to the wishes of relatives and friends, will be simple and unostentatious. Rev. E. O. Buxton, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and Rev. Dr. D. W. Holmes, his predecessor and now presiding elder of the Youngtown Methodist Episcopal district, will be in charge of the service. Mrs. George Clark has been delegated to arrange the music.

The remains will be borne to Westlawn vault and laid beside the casket of the late President, there to remain until permanent removal to the mausoleum on Monument Hill.

Business to Be Halted. Business in Canton will come to a standstill during the funeral hour. The activities of the city will cease almost completely. Business houses have been asked by the president of the Business Men's Association to close their doors from 2 to 4 p. m. A similar appeal to the manufacturers to stop their wheels has been issued by President Dougherty, of the board of trade. Banks will likely close. City and county offices will suspend business. The question of giving the school children an opportunity to witness the funeral procession will be settled probably in the affirmative. Public school buildings, as well as other buildings throughout the city, are to-day flying flags at half mast. Orders have gone forth that work on the McKinley monument in Westlawn Cemetery shall cease at Wednesday noon for the day.

State officials at Columbus were in session Monday completing arrangements for coming to Canton.

The Stark County Bar Association, of which President McKinley, during his life, was a member, will send a floral tribute to the McKinley home.

CABINET MEMBERS GOING.

Secretaries Root, Garfield, and Wilson Accompanying President.

The national government will be represented at the funeral of Mrs. McKinley by the President and four members of his Cabinet. Secretary Cortelyou, who went to Canton as soon as the first word came of Mrs. McKinley's illness, will remain until after the obsequies. The President will take with him Secretaries Root, Garfield, and Wilson, leaving here this afternoon.

It had been the intention of the President to start Wednesday on his trip to Indianapolis, where he was to unveil the Lawton monument on Memorial Day. Immediately upon learning the sad news from Canton, he decided to leave the Capital one day earlier, in order to be present at the funeral, which will take place to-morrow afternoon.

The arrangements were made by long-distance telephone between Canton and the White House. Secretary Cortelyou will have charge of the plans for the President's reception and entertainment at Canton.

NEGROES OPPOSE TAFT.

Meeting at True Reformers' Hall Addressed by Grimke.

Secretary Taft skipping lightly over a roomful of eggs without breaking a shell, is the way the Secretary of War was pictured at a mass meeting of colored citizens to protest against his nomination for the Presidency, in True Reformers' Hall last night. In attributing this remarkable faculty to Mr. Taft, Archibald Grimke, of Boston, Mass., former consul general to Santo Domingo, and the principal speaker of the evening, was speaking figuratively, and was referring to the Secretary's ability in dealing diplomatically with problems of serious import.

"The negro race is without comprehension of its political power," said Mr. Grimke. "By united efforts, and by standing steadfastly to the principles which should govern them, they can defeat any candidate the Republican party may nominate in 1908. The negroes for forty years have been worshipping the wraiths of Lincoln, Sumner, and Grant, and blindly voting the Republican ticket. The time has come when they should consider their own interest and cast their ballots for a candidate who will recognize their rights as American citizens."

VETERANS LEAVE TO-MORROW.

Confederates Enthusiastic Over the Coming Reunion at Richmond.

At a meeting held by the Confederate Veterans' Association Camp, No. 171, in their hall, 140 H street last night, a large number of the members announced their intention of attending the reunion in Richmond. The local delegation will leave on the 11:15 train to-morrow morning. Great enthusiasm is being displayed by the Washington veterans over the reunion, as they expect it to surpass in interest any previous gathering of the wearers of the gray.

Festival Success in Every Way.

The third annual song festival, given by 500 pupils of the public schools, under the direction of Miss Alys E. Bentley, was not only a success artistically and musically, but financially as well. The committee in charge of the festival announced that approximately $1,600 will be netted for the school playgrounds, and, in addition, much was accomplished for the playground movement. The festival demonstrated thoroughly the efficiency of the schools. President Roosevelt and others who attended the festival expressed surprise at the character of the children's singing.

New York Longshoremen Go Back at Old Rate of Pay.

American and White Star Lines First to Benefit—Cunard Also Gets Fifty Men Back.

New York, May 27.—Hundreds of longshoremen returned to-day to work on the Hudson River piers at their former scale of wages, and the famous water front strike, which lasted almost three weeks, is practically at an end.

When the White Star liner Celtic, from Southampton, running in the American Line service in place of the St. Paul, which is undergoing an overhauling, reached the Vesey street pier to-day, seventy-five of the old hands presented themselves at the bulkhead and tendered their services. They went to the tinnery, received the customary tickets, and began at once the discharging of the Celtic's cargo.

Nothing was said about wages by the men, but the tinner told each that the usual scale of wages—30 cents an hour for day work and 45 cents an hour for night work and overtime—would be paid.

That there was some understanding about the men returning to work was indicated when other strikers appeared about the same time at the White Star Line pier, foot of West Eleventh street, and at the Atlantic Transport Company's wharf, foot of Houston street.

The Cunard line, farther up the waterfront, had over 100 old hands to return during the morning.

Dock Superintendent Edward Wright, of the American-Red Star lines, said to-day: "We have all the men we want now; I mean skilled hands, and those who went on strike. They have been returning in pairs and fours for a week, but the big number returned to the fold to-day."

When asked what is to become of the Italian and other strike breakers who have been working on the piers since the regular longshoremen went out a steamship agent said: "That point will have to be settled later. We recognize no union of any kind, and everybody will have to stand on his merits."

After experiencing violence at the hands of striking longshoremen, ten strike breakers on their way to work to-day were arrested for carrying concealed weapons.

FLEE FROM DICTATOR

Merchants Now Fear Dark Doings in Guatemala.

MEXICAN MINISTER LEAVES

Jose Gamboa Only Man Feared by Estrada Cabrera—Murders of Dinner Guests in Days Gone By Recalled by Frightened People—Consolidation Under Diaz Suggested.

Mobile, May 27.—Merchants from Guatemala who recently arrived in this city en route to Europe say that the people of that republic are greatly agitated over the departure of Minister Jose Gamboa, the Mexican diplomat accredited to Guatemala and Salvador.

They asserted that Minister Gamboa was the only diplomat in Guatemala City who was held in respect or awe by Estrada Cabrera, and that since his departure many of those who hold themselves under his protection would be forced either to leave the country or submit to paying constant tribute to the dictator in order to escape punishment. As one of them expressed it, the scenes of eight years ago, when the infamous Casa de los amigos del Presidente was in full sway, and when it was a notorious fact that none of the men who were invited to partake of a meal with the dictator were seen again, will be re-enacted.

It is feared that this terrible slaughter of the country's most prominent citizens will be followed by the blood of numbers marked for destruction.

House with Trap Door. The merchants said that this house was fitted with luxurious apartments, the floors of which were filled with trap doors. A marked man would be invited to partake of a meal, and when the wines had been passed, the popular story is that he would be invited into one of these apartments to rest for a while. Beneath the floors were horrid dungeons, into which the luckless victims would be precipitated. These are said to be filled with grinning skulls, among which it is believed are those of several Americans. These, and even worse, things are anticipated by the residents of Guatemala unless the Mexican government takes a hand.

The merchants stated that there was a strong sentiment in the Central American States in favor of consolidation with Mexico, so that they could be placed under the firm hand of President Diaz.

Senor Canto Hered.

Conditions in Guatemala are bordering on anarchy, according to the statement made here yesterday by Senor Canto, recently Chile's consul general at Guatemala City, and now on his way to London, where he goes to represent his country in a similar capacity. Senor Canto called at the State Department and talked with Secretary Root. The revolutionists, he says, are active and doing everything possible to harass the Cabrera government, which is in difficult straits and unable to maintain order or stamp out the revolutionary sentiment.

The State Department yesterday received a cablegram from Philip Brown, secretary of the United States Legation in Guatemala, requesting permission to be allowed to use his personal influence with the government in behalf of the nineteen men who have been sentenced to death for alleged complicity against the life of President Cabrera. The department is willing that Mr. Brown should use his best judgment in dealing with the matter.

WHITE CAPS KILL FARMER.

"Men Must Live Decently," Says Note on Body.

Thomasville, Ga., May 27.—J. B. Hagan, a wealthy farmer, was taken from home by White Caps about 2 o'clock Sunday morning, carried to a dense swamp two miles distant, bound to a tree and shot to death. The crime was not discovered until to-day. Pinned on the body was a note bearing the words: "Men must live decently in this country," and signed "White Caps."

Mrs. Hagan says her husband was aroused from sleep Sunday morning by a call at the front gate. Hagan went to the door and a man at the gate said the farmer was wanted to attend a dying neighbor. Hagan dressed and left, and the mystery was not solved until the body was found.

Providence, R. I., May 27.—Albert Harkness, professor emeritus at Brown University, and one of the best-known authors of Latin and Greek text-books in the country, died suddenly at his home here to-day. He had been ill with bronchial pneumonia.

Dr. Harkness was born at Mendon, Mass., in 1822. He was author of a score of classical textbooks, best known of which is his Latin grammar.

be implicated in the murder and the one whose trunk was used to hide the body of the slain priest. This man came from Chicago four months ago, having lost all of his money, as it happened, in a restaurant in West Pullman. The police also learned to-day that Ermilian and John Garmonian, or Noordinian, whose arrest in Chicago was reported to the New York police to-night, would be associated in a restaurant in Chicago.

Arrest in Chicago.

Chicago, May 27.—The first arrest in the search for the murderer of Father Caspar, whose body was found in a trunk, was made by the New York police, occurred to-day when Capt. James O'D. Stoen, of the Englewood station, arrested John Morradian, an employee of the International Harvesting Company.

Investigation made to-day disclosed the fact that Father Caspar is well known in the Armenian colonies in Chicago, scattered in several portions of the city, and that last time he was in West Pullman was some three years ago, when he remained for four days as the guest of Harry Tarbian on Law avenue.

"We all know Father Caspar," said Tarbian and his wife, when seen at their abode at 725 West 120th street. "He was a man about sixty years old, and was devoted to his church. He had a son, but the son died a short time ago."

In line with the theory that Ermilian committed a murder in Chicago and had its victim shipped to New York by Khachadorian, the police have made several discoveries.

White Firemen to Strike. Asbury Park's Refusal to Abolish Colored Company Brings Trouble.

Asbury Park, N. J., May 27.—The colored firemen in Asbury Park are still on deck, and will continue to work the hose at the same old stand, but the white firemen are going on strike. City council to-night sustained Mayor Atkins' veto of the new fire ordinance which eliminates the colored company from the city department. Mayor Atkins, in his veto, states that to leave out the colored company would place the district in which its members reside in a hazardous condition.

The mayor believes that prudence and judgment dictate a reconsideration of the subject.

No sooner was the mayor's veto read than it was announced that an order to strike was voted by the dissenting firemen, to take effect October 1.

IRISH QUESTION POSTPONED.

Campbell-Bannerman Disappoints Crowd in House of Commons.

London, May 27.—In anticipation of Premier Campbell-Bannerman's promised announcement on the subject of the Irish question bill and other government measures, a large crowd assembled in the House of Commons to-day, but the premier was not ready to divulge the government's programme.

When the questions relating to the Irish bill were taken up the premier asked that they be postponed for a week, when he would answer them and outline the course proposed by the government in connection with the other business of the session.

The chief secretary for Ireland, Mr. Birrell, occupied his usual seat in the House.

MRS. GOULD ACTS

Makes Formal Complaint to Postal Officials.

CLAIMS MAIL WAS EXAMINED

Federal Authorities to Act in Notorious Matrimonial Squabble—Denials of Underworld Discuss Scandal and Pronounce "Big Bill" Hawley's Story Another "Pipe Dream."

New York, May 27.—Formal complaint was made to United States District Attorney Stimson to-day that Mrs. Howard Gould's mail was tampered with on several occasions while she was living apart from her husband. Her attorney called on Mr. Stimson to-day and urged that the Federal authorities investigate Mrs. Gould's charges, and it is likely that the Post-office Department will take up the matter and assign inspectors to watch the clerks that have been furnished by Mrs. Gould. Mr. Stimson was also told of Mrs. Gould's suspicions that she had been shadowed by Secret Service operatives, as well as by detective sergeants from police headquarters, and an investigation will also be begun along that line.

A woman who said she is a close personal friend of Mrs. Gould made it known to-day that she could aid the government officials in their efforts to find out who it was that tampered with Mrs. Gould's letters. It was learned from a reliable source that she claims to know the name of a post-office inspector who instructed the chief clerk of the Madison Square branch of the post-office to get tracings of Mrs. Gould's mail. She said the clerk told her that when the inspector instructed him to do this he advanced the information that he wanted the tracings for Lieut. Frank Peabody, of the detective bureau.

Refuses to Reveal Identity. The woman refused to reveal her identity to the officials whom she communicated with, saying it was not necessary for them to know her. She assured them that there was no mistake about Mrs. Gould's mail having been tampered with, and that if an investigation were begun it would develop that what she said was true. The woman furnished the name of one of the best-known post-office inspectors in the department as the man who had ordered the tracings. The chief clerk in the Madison Square branch could not have been mistaken in him, she said, as he had worked in that branch on many occasions in the course of investigations.

Chief Post-office Inspector Mayer received no official notification of Mrs. Gould's charge to-day, but said that the inspector named was one of his most trusted men, who had been in the Post-office Department for many years. He pointed out the fact that this inspector had been implicated in even the slightest manner.

Postmaster Wilcox said to-day that when Mrs. Gould's charge was formally presented to him he would order a rigid investigation.

William Flynn, chief of the Eastern division of the Post-office Department, said that he did not believe any of his operatives had the slightest thing to do, directly or indirectly, with the Gould case.

Big Bill Hawley Discredited. It has come to the ears of several people directly concerned in the Gould scandal that Big Bill Hawley's connection with the affair is the one subject being discussed by the citizens of the underworld, and not a few well-known thieves who consorted with him in days gone by.
